"Rescue in the Philippines" is a one-hour documentary of the previously untold story of how the five Frieder brothers, Cincinnati businessmen manufacturing two-for-a-nickel cigars in pre-WWII Manila, helped 1,200 Jews to escape the Nazis and immigrate to the Philippines. They were aided in this venture by Manuel Quezon, the charismatic first president of the Philippines; Paul McNutt, US High Commissioner and former governor of Indiana; and an ambitious Army colonel named Dwight D. Eisenhower.
